Purpose
The purpose of this design team is to:
- Evaluate the current programming at VCSP.
- Make recommendations for future programming and an action plan that will best serve the Santa Clara River Valley Community and the students of Ventura College.

Background
In 1974, Ventura College began offering classes in Fillmore to serve the Santa Clara River Valley’s predominantly Hispanic population. In 1980, The Santa Paula Vocational Center, later known as the East Campus, opened on Dean Drive in Santa Paula. This campus became the center of operations for Ventura College Off-Campus Programs, which coordinated outreach and access to classes and college services to various locations that included Nordhoff High School in Ojai, Santa Paula High School, and Fillmore High School. At its prime, Ventura College Off-Campus programs enrolled over 1,200 per semester.

As budget constraints increased, the department of Off-Campus programs encountered reductions in funding, staffing, and high school sites. In 2010, the East Campus moved to its new location on Faulkner Road. To be in compliance with accreditation standards, to improve off-campus programming, and to increase access to education in the Santa Clara River Valley region, a task force was formed at the request of Dr. Greg Gillespie, Ventura College President.

- Sustainability - Fostering responsibility and pride in our campus and serving as a model of environmental stewardship, being mindful of the impact we have on the environment as individuals and as a community.

- Continuous Improvement - Recognizing that as an organization we are always in a state of evolution, we strive to be the best we can be through continual reflection, data-driven decision making and holding ourselves accountable for responsible use of public resources.

- Research legislative, Board or other mandated requirements
  Requirements of a site versus Center. Highlights below. See attachments for full version educational codes and requirements.

  - FTES
    Educational centers receive in base fiscal year revenue, per 58771(i)(5) $1,000,000 for each center described in subdivision (b)(1) of section 55180 and reporting 1,000 or more FTES.

  - Requirements to convert an off-campus center operation to a community college educational center
    District should submit a Letter of Intent to the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges. The Letter of Intent should contain:
    - A preliminary five-year enrollment projection and attendance (headcount and FTES) for the new center.
    - Enrollment history of the off-campus operation
    - Location of the new educational center and maps of the area in which indicating population densities, topography, road/highway configurations, etc.
    - Copy of the district’s most recent five-year construction plan
    - Time schedule for development of the center
    - Tentative five-year support and capital outlay budget projections
    - Resolution of the district governing board authorizing the new center
    - Identification of neighboring public and independent institutions in the area. Effects on other institutions.
    - Environmental impact
    - Economic efficiency
    - Academic planning and program justification
    - Student services and outreach

- Research similar institutions
  The Task Force researched four institutions in our region with off-campus educational Centers.
  - College of the Canyon’s, Canyon Country
  - Allan Hancock’s, Lompoc Valley Center
  - Merced Community College’s, Los Banos Center
  - San Diego’s Barrio Logan, Cesar Chavez Campus
Background:
The four community college centers were reviewed through Internet search and phone interviews. Additional information will be obtained after a site visit of the Barrio Logan’s, Cesar Chavez campus. The centers have been in operation for various periods of time, ranging from Lompoc Valley in 1999 to the San Diego Barrio Logan Center, scheduled for completion in 2015 as an addition to a previously opened center.

Students Served:
The number of full-time equivalent students served range from 1,400 (Barrio Logan) to 5,100 (Canyon Country). Note: Los Banos is funded as a large center (1,000 students and receives $250,000 funding for that designation.)

Land/Space:
Most of the centers are on donated land (or purchased for $1). Los Banos has 120 acres of donated land and is utilizing 20 acres for the center; the remainder is being used as farm land. Canyon Country has 70 acres. Lompoc Valley has 205 acres which includes a 68 acre specialized public safety program. The new addition to the Barrio Logan center will have 68,000 square feet.

Faculty:
Canyon Country, Lompoc Valley, and Los Banos centers all have full-time faculty in addition to part-time faculty and staff.

Management/Supervision
All three centers interviewed thus far have a Dean located on site and have an autonomous budget.

Programs:
All of the centers have degrees and certificates available which can be completed on-site; some with the use of distance education. Students may take credit, noncredit, and not-for-credit offerings. The most prevalent offerings are: general education, business, criminal justice, early childhood education, alternate energy, environmental technology, applied health, and career preparation classes such as basic office skills, small business, nursing assistance and home health aide.

In general, ESL is offered as a noncredit program. Most centers offer GED preparation.

Canyon Country has the largest number of degrees (17) and certificates (12) available. Lompoc Valley has a specialty public safety facility, which includes education and training for police, fire, emergency medical services, and environmental technology. The facility has a six-story fire tower, a one-mile vehicle obstacle course, shooting range, fitness track, and obstacle course. In addition, they focus on a variety of workforce education programs.
Ventura College - Initiative Design Form

Services:
The centers offer a variety of labs, learning centers, a separate library or library linked to main campus.

Canyon Country has offices for counseling, admissions and student business office, student health center, special programs (EOPS, DSPS, Career Services), student development, service learning, assessment center, and a seasonal book store.

Alan Hancock has a computer resource center, and offices for EOPS, financial aid, career and technical education center, learning assistance program, and university transfer center in addition to a library.

Los Banos has a library, bookstore, tutoring room, student lounge, career center, health services office,
