J. Program Strengths, Successes, and Significant Events

Strengths and successes:

- One Book One Campus continues to be a success, with the campus reading Michael Pollan's The Botany of Desire in 2010 and Malcolm Gladwell's Outliers in 2011.
- The Reading & Writing Center, funded by the Title $V$ grant, addresses the needs of developmental writers in classes across the curriculum. This is staffed by instructors who volunteer their time and specially trained student writing tutors.
- English faculty have coordinated with Criminal Justice faculty and Nursing faculty to develop themed writing classes to meet the needs of those large student populations. Using Title V funds, these classes have assisted at-risk students in completing English requirements.
- In accordance with new research on the impact of learning communities on student success, English faculty have developed paired classes with History and Criminal Justice faculty.

2011-2012

- VC Voices, the English department's annual publication, features outstanding student writing from English classes and exposes our students' work to the community. The 2011 edition featured a full color cover and improved spiral binding while keeping costs to students below $$ 3.00$ per copy. The English department worked with the Art department to showcase winning artwork.
- Using some Title V funding, the English department improved services for basic skills students through innovative software such as Read Write Gold, Inspiration, and Reading Plus. These programs inspired students to work through difficult material.
- Reading faculty have given diagnostic reading tests (both paper and Reading Plus computer based) to classes across the curriculum. Results indicate that reading levels are as low as $3^{\text {rd }}$ grade for courses in which the texts are written at $12^{\text {th }}$ grade reading level and above.
- English 3 and English 2 instructors continue to integrate Supplemental Instructor leaders into developmental classes to give additional support to students.
- English faculty members have successfully applied for a grant through the Ventura College Foundation to host an annual dinner in which best practices, "vertical teaming," and student concerns are discussed with teachers from local high schools. This has improved faculty understanding of student needs as they work through the Ventura education system.
- In 2010, the English Department hired two additional full time faculty members. Both of these instructors have been highly involved in department and campus-wide work.

Significant Changes

- The transferable, sophomore-level classes offered by the English Department have been cut significantly. In fall 2008, the Department offered nine sections of sophomore-level classes and this has been reduced to one literature section per semester as of fall 2011.
- The English department's reading offerings (ENGL 5-8A/B) have been reduced from 8 sections in 2004 to 4 sections for the last academic year.
- The division clerical staff has been decreased by 50\%. This has drastically increased administrative work for both the department chair and other faculty.
- Because of cuts to the EAC, students are no longer able to receive testing for learning disabilities. Previously, instructors could refer students to the EAC for assessment and accommodations. Now instructors, who lack specialized training, are unable to accommodate students who do not have a documented learning disability.

English (English, Interdisciplinary Studies, Library Instruction [Credit-Based], Study Skills) Program Review

2011-2012

- The IDS-100 program, which provided workshops for students and support for instructors, has been cut. This affected students in the majority of composition classes by removing training on software purchased by the college and helpful workshops on study skills, writing, and math.

3. Operating Information

A1: Budget Summary Table

To simplify the reporting and analysis of the Banner budget detail report, the budget accounts were consolidated into nine expense categories. The personnel categories include employee payroll expenses (benefits). The "3 Year Average" was computed to provide a trend benchmark to compare the prior three year expenses to the FY11 expenses. The "FY11 College" expense percentages are included to provide a benchmark to compare the program's expenses to the overall college expenses.

A2: Budget Summary Chart

This chart illustrates the program's expense trends. The data label identifies the FY11 expenses (the last bar in each group). The second-to-last bar is the program's prior three year average.

A3: Comparative Budget Changes Chart

This chart illustrates the percentage change from the prior three year average expense to the FY11 expenses. The top bar for each budget category represents the program's change in expenses and includes the data label. The second bar represents the college's change in expenses.

A4: Budget Detail Report

The program's detail budget information is available in Appendix A - Program Review Budget Report. This report is a PDF document and is searchable. The budget information was extracted from the District's Banner Financial System. The program budget includes all expenses associated to the program's Banner program codes within the following funds: general fund (111), designated college equipment fund (114-35012), State supplies and equipment funds (128xx), and the technology refresh fund (445). The Program Review Budget Report is sorted by program (in alphabetical order) and includes the following sections: total program expenses summary; subtotal program expenses for each different program code; detail expenses by fund, organization and account; and program inventory (as posted in Banner). To simplify the report, the Banner personnel benefit accounts ( $3 x x x$ ) were consolidated into employee type benefit accounts ( $3 \mathrm{xxx} 1=\mathrm{FT}$ Faculty, $3 \mathrm{xxx2}=$ PT Faculty, $3 \mathrm{xxx} 3=$ Classified, etc.).

English (English, Interdisciplinary Studies, Library Instruction [Credit-Based], Study Skills) Program Review

A5: Interpretation of the Program Budget Information

The program shows a 5\% increase in FT faculty expenditures over the last three years, less than half of the increase seen campus-wide during the same period. While there have been several new hires in recent years, these were primarily replacements for retirements and other vacancies.

At the same time, the program's PT faculty expenditures have increased by $9 \%$ while the campus expenditures decreased by the same amount. This would indicate that PT faculty have been used to adjust for growth in the program.

This data does not include the Supplemental Instruction program, which is currently funded by the Title V grant. This grant funding will end in October 2012.

In FY11, no funds have been spent for services. Those expenses (ex. Travel) have been covered by grants and other one-time funds. This is not indicative of a trend for the future.

In FY11, the equipment expenditures show a significant increase. Appendix A indicates that these were instructional equipment, probably the documents cameras approved in last year's program review. The numbers do not match up with the department's expenditure records, so there needs to be a more detailed account or inventory.

In prior years, equipment expenditures have been covered by lottery funds.

B1: Program Inventory Table

This chart shows the inventory (assets) as currently posted in the Banner Financial System. This inventory list is not complete and will require review by each program. Based on this review an updated inventory list will be maintained by the college. A result of developing a complete and accurate inventory list is to provide an adequate budget for equipment maintenance and replacement (total-cost-of-ownership). The college will be working on this later this fall.

B2: Interpretation of the Program Inventory Information

This inventory only reflects equipment purchased 10 or more years ago and that needs to be updated.

The inventory does not include the computers and other equipment in faculty offices. These computers malfunction on a regular basis and are overdue for replacement.

Several projects have been funded by Title V, so they are not included on this list. The college currently has 66 licenses for Reading Plus that will expire in 2013.

Title V also purchased textbooks for reading classes that students could check out for a semester. These may need to be replaced as editions are updated.

| Sections | A credit or non-credit class.  Does not include not-for-credit classes (community education). |
| :--- | :--- |
| Census | Number of students enrolled at census (typically the 4 ${ }^{\text {th }}$ week of class for fall and spring). |
| FTES | Full Time Equivalent Students  A student in the classroom 15 hours/week for 35 weeks (or two semesters) $=525$  student contact hours.  525 student contact hours $=1$ FTES.  Example: 400 student contact hours $=400 / 525=0.762$ FTES.  The State apportionment process and District allocation model both use FTES as the  primary funding criterion. |
|  | Full Time Equivalent Faculty  A faculty member teaching 15 units for two semesters ( 30 units for the year) $=1$ FTE.  Example: a 6 unit assignment $=6 / 30=0.20$ FTEF (annual). The college also computes  semester FTEF by changing the denominator to 15 units. However, in the program  review data, all FTE is annual.  FTEF includes both Full-Time Faculty and Part-Time Faculty.  FTEF in this program review includes faculty assigned to teach extra large sections (XL  Faculty). This deviates from the district practice of not including these assignments as  part of FTEF. However, it is necessary to account for these assignments to properly  produce represent faculty productivity and associated costs. |
| Cross | FTEF is assigned to all faculty teaching cross-listed sections. The FTEF assignment is  proportional to the number of students enrolled at census. This deviates from the  practice of assigning load only to the primary section. It is necessary to account for these  Lross-listed assignments to properly represent faculty productivity and associated costs. |
| Listed |  |
| FTEF | Extra Large FTE: This is the calculated assignment for faculty assigned to extra large  sections (greater than 60 census enrollments).The current practice is not to assign FTE.  Example: if census>60, 50\% of the section FTE assignment for each additional group of  25 (additional tiers). |

C2: Productivity Summary Table

This table is a summary of the detail information provided in the Program Review Productivity Report. The "3 Year Average" was computed to provide a trend benchmark to compare the results of the prior three years to the FY11 results. The "FY11 College" percentages are included to provide a benchmark to compare the program's percentages.

2011-2012

C4: Interpretation of the Program Productivity Information

While the program has only increased its sections by $1 \%$, the census numbers have increased by $9 \%$. This is primarily from instructors adding students above cap. With the move to the new buildings (MCW), it will no longer be possible to maintain these census numbers because the classrooms do not allow instructors to add additional students.

The program's productivity increased in six out of eight categories, far exceeding the college's three year changes as seen in C3. This is primarily due to instructors accepting students above cap. Additional FT instructors are needed to maintain this level of productivity.

D1: District WSCH Ratio Productivity Table

This table shows the District WSCH ratio (WSCH/FTEF) for each course by year for this program. Courses not offered during FY11 (last year) or without faculty load (independent study) are excluded. Because these are ratios, the combined average is computed using total WSCH and total FTEF (not the average of ratios). The formula used in this table distributes FTEF to all cross-listed sections (proportional to census enrollment) but does not include the associated faculty costs of extra large assignment.
District WSCH Ratio = WSCH / (PT FTE + FT FTE).

D3: College WSCH Ratio Productivity Table

This table shows the College's WSCH ratio (WSCH/FTEF) for each course by year for the program. Courses not offered during FY11 (last year) or without faculty load (independent study) are excluded. Because these are ratios, the combined average is computed using total WSCH and total FTEF (not the average of ratios). The formula used in this table includes the associated faculty costs of extra large sections. Faculty teaching extra large sections are paid stipends equal to $50 \%$ of their section FTE assignment for each group of 25 students beyond the first 60 students (calculated in this table as XL FTE). This College WSCH Ratio is a more valid representation of WSCH productivity. The College WSCH Ratio will be used in the program review process.

The productivity information was extracted from the District's Banner Student System. The productivity information includes all information associated with the program's subject codes. The Program Review Productivity Report is sorted by subject code (alphabetical order) and includes the following sections: productivity measures and WSCH ratios by course by year.

D6: Interpretation of the Program Course Productivity Information

The charts in D3 ad D4 indicate that in those classes offered every semester (Eng 1A-8B), the program has exceeded the productivity goal. In fact, the productivity levels in these classes have grown significantly as compared to the three year average (Chart D2).

The literature classes are not offered on a regular basis due to budget cuts, so the negative productivity on those not offered recently is expected. In fall 2008, the Department offered nine sections of sophomore-level classes and this has been reduced to one literature section per semester as of fall 2011. In those classes that were offered, the productivity has increased greatly.

The reading classes show extraordinarily high levels of productivity (134-140\%) because those classes are highly impacted. These numbers indicate that additional sections may be required.

E6: Interpretation of Program Retention, Student Success, and Grade Distribution

The program's overall retention and success rates are on par with or slightly higher than the overall college rates as seen in E3. The grade distribution indicates that the program gives fewer As (26\%) than the campus average ( $33 \%$ ). This is a result of intradepartmental discussions about grading criteria and, at the English 1A level, revising of the department grading rubric.

The program gives fewer Fs than the college average and more Ws (in the three year average). This is due to individual instructors advising students of their progress in the class before the final drop date.

To do further analysis, the program would need disaggregated data showing results at each course level. Regardless, both English and Reading classes currently maintain high retention and success rates.

The Program Review Student Demographics Report is sorted by subject code (alphabetical order) and includes the following sections: comparative summary by year, and detail demographics by term and course.

G4: Interpretation of the Program Demographic Information

In general, the program parallels the college statistics for demographic information. The number of Hispanic students is slightly higher than the college average ( $52 \%$ compared to $45 \%$ ), which is due to basic skills classes. Also, many of the reading and developmental writing classes have a significant ESL or generation 1.5 population.

In order to do further analysis, the program needs disaggregated data indicating the performance by each demographic group in the various courses.

2011-2012

5. Findings

Finding 1

The English Department exceeds the district's goals for retention, productivity, and student success. The department has maintained high grading standards as seen in the percentage of As as compared with the rest of the college. (See analysis in Program Operating outcome 1, Student Success Outcomes 1-4, Chart 3E2 and 4, and analysis 3E6)

Finding 2

According to the budget charts, the English department does not parallel the college's changes to part time and full time expenditures. Specifically, full time increased by $5 \%$ while the college increased by approximately $12 \%$ and part time increased by $9 \%$ while the college decreased part time spending by the same amount. Also, the English department does not meet the standard of $75 / 25$ (full time/part time sections taught). In FY11 there were 12.53 full time instructors and the equivalent of 16.67 part time instructors. This is more pronounced in the reading faculty where the split is 50/50 (full time/part time sections taught). (See Chart 3A3 and 3C2)

Finding 3

Literature and reading, which are the most productive sections, comprise less than $5 \%$ of the sections offered during FY11. (See Chart 3D1 and 3D2)

Finding 4

The full time instructors' office computers, which are not included on the inventory list, malfunction on a regular basis. These machines are at least 8 years old, but even this is uncertain because there is no record. (See Chart 3B1 and analysis 3B2)

Finding 5

The Supplemental Instruction Program, the Reading and Writing Center, and the Reading Plus software are funded by Title V. This funding will end in October 2012. (See Chart 3A1 and 3B1)

Finding 6

Because data is not disaggregated by course, the English department cannot meaningfully analyze the student success and demographic information. This data does not reflect specific research interests of the department. (See Charts 3E2, 3G1, and 3G2)

6B: Program Level Initiative Prioritization
All initiatives will first be prioritized by the program staff. If the initiative can be completed by the program staff and requires no new resources, then the initiative should be given a priority 0 (multiple priority 0 initiatives are allowed). All other initiatives should be given a priority number starting with 1 (only one 1 , one 2 , etc.).

6C: Division Level Initiative Prioritization

The program initiatives within a division will be consolidated into division spreadsheets. The dean may include additional division-wide initiatives. All initiatives (excluding the ' 0 ' program priorities) will then be prioritized using the following priority levels:

R: Required - mandated or unavoidable needs (litigation, contracts, unsafe to operate conditions, etc.).
H: High - approximately $1 / 3$ of the total division's initiatives by resource category (personnel, equipment, etc.)
$\mathbf{M}$ : Medium - approximately $1 / 3$ of the total division's initiatives by resource category (personnel, equipment, etc.)
L: Low - approximately $1 / 3$ of the total division's initiatives by resource category (personnel, equipment, etc.)

6D: Committee Level Initiative Prioritization

The division's spreadsheets will be prioritized by the appropriate college-wide committees (staffing, technology, equipment, facilities) using the following priority levels.

R: Required - mandated or unavoidable needs (litigation, contracts, unsafe to operate conditions, etc.).
H: High - approximately $1 / 3$ of the total division's initiatives by resource category (personnel, equipment, etc.)
M: Medium - approximately $1 / 3$ of the total division's initiatives by resource category (personnel, equipment, etc.)

7A: Appeals

After the program review process is complete, your program has the right to appeal the ranking of initiatives.

If you choose to appeal, please complete the form that explains and supports your position. The appeal will be handled at the next higher level of the program review process.

7B: Process Assessment

In this first year of program review using the new format, programs will be establishing performance indicators (goals) for analysis next year. Program review will take place annually, but until programs have been through an entire annual cycle, they cannot completely assess the process. However, your input is very important to us as we strive to improve, and your initial comments on this new process are encouraged.
