

Don't Cancel That Class! Presentations

Ventura College Career Transfer Center is pleased to implement an activity that was created in 2001, by the Butte College Transfer Counseling Center (TCC). Butte College expanded their class presentation format to include the “Don't Cancel That Class!” presentation, designed to encourage faculty to contact the TCC if they were going to be away from class due to a conference, meeting or illness. The service eliminates the need to cancel a scheduled class by having a TCC counselor present the transfer process to the class.

Ventura College Career Transfer Center implemented the “Don't Cancel That Class!” presentation in fall 2015. Any faculty member who will be away from their class are invited to contact Dr. Marian Carrasco Nungaray, Counselor Coordinating the Transfer Center for this service.

In addition, all faculty members are encouraged to schedule a classroom presentation and are encouraged to be present when possible. This program has been well received on campus and has become a great tool to advertise the Ventura College Career Transfer Center services to students. The class presentation covers transfer and general education requirements for admission to CSU and UC campuses, and in general terms for private four - year schools. If you are interested in learning more about how to conduct a “Don't Cancel That Class!” presentation on your campus, the Ventura College Career Transfer Center's coordinator, Dr. Marian Carrasco Nungaray, or call (805) 289-6028, or email mcarrasco@vcccd.edu and provide the class, time, number of students.
