

Communicate to Captivate

BILLION DOLLAR ADVICE

Warren Buffet, business magnate, investor and philanthropist, told a class of students at the Columbia Business School, "Right now, I'd pay a hundred-thousand dollars for 10% of the future earnings of any one of you. I would raise my bid 50% if you were good communicators."

Buffet believes good oral communication skills greatly impact upon an individual's chances of success. The ability to inspire, persuade and mobilize others are greatly desirable and sought after skills and, these skills can be taught. We all have the ability to speak but it takes skill to be captivating.
